THE DAWN.

FREE THOUGHT.

VOL. I. San Francisco March 19th 1879. No. 1.

The Dawn.

Devoted to the welfare of humanity.
Published weekly in San Francisco.

Terms.

Cash in advance – Advertisements received – payable in good deeds & kindly aid.

The Dawn is coming! See the daylight
Streaks with gold the eastern sky;
See the shadows, slow retreating
From the morning's radiant greeting,
And the earth is bathed in glory,
Never, never known before.
Yes 'tis coming. Equal labor,
Equal comforts for us all;
None shall rust in ease and ennui
While with some the hard earned penny
Doled out by disdainful fingers
Scarce keeps want from out their door –
Yes 'tis coming.

The brass $20. piece.

The best exponent of the real opposers of "Free Love" – yet discovered, purchased at a shop where the counterfeit of love is retailed. in this instance costing but 15 cents – brought before the Lyceum of Self Culture, by a man who owns to having made the purchase, and held up as a representation of "Free Love" according to his deffinition. He then proceeds to apply his chemical acid test, being an expert from long experience in handling the brass, and following the wisdom of his ancient predecessor, the wisest of Bible experts – he pronounces it a fraud, "Vanity and vexation of spirit". Please bear in mind this astonishing test was made upon his own brass, which bears no comparison to the genuine Free Love under discussion.

THE DAWN.

FREE THOUGHT.

VOL. I. San Francisco March 19th 1879. No. 1.

The Dawn.

Devoted to the welfare of humanity.
Published weekly in San Francisco.

Terms.

Cash in advance _ Advertisements received _ payable in good deeds & kind said

The Dawn is coming! See the daylight.
Streaks with gold the eastern sky;
See the shadows, slow retreating
From the morning's radient greeting;
And the earth is bathed in glory.
Never, never known before.
Yes 'tis coming. Equal labor,
Equal comforts for us all;
None shall rust in ease and ennui
While with some the hard earned penny
Doled out by disdainful fingers
Scarce keeps want from out their door_
Yes 'tis coming.

The brass $20. piece.

The best exponent of the real opposers of "Free Love" _ yet discovered, purchased at a shop where the counterfeit of love is retailed; in this instance costing but 15 cents _ brought before the Lyceum of Self Culture, by a man who owns to having made the purchase, and held up as a representation of "Free Love" according to his deffinition: He then proceeds to apply his chemical acid test, being an expert from long experience in handling the brass, and following the wisdom of his ancient predecessor, the wisest of Bible experts _ he pronounces it a fraud; vanity and vexation of spirit Please bear in mind this astonishing test was made upon his own brass, which bears no comparison to the genuine Free Love under discussion _